Teaching True Beginners INTRODUCTORY INSTRUCTOR TRAINING

"A (r)evolutionary approach to teaching people to overcome their fear.—Nancy Ward, Total Immersion

Greater YMCA of Westfield, 67 Court Street

$99

Saturday, April 21, 2007, 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m (bring lunch)

*"Exciting, eye-opening, grounded, personal, successful. This class exceeded my expectations."
—Ashley Nagle, Bubbles to Butterfly Swim School*

PRE-REGISTRATION REQUIRED

In order to learn, students must be in control. Students who are afraid are not in control in water. Beginners need to know how to be in control and remain in control if something frightening arises. Further, they need to learn how water works, so they won't be afraid.

What is control? What are the steps of preventing panic? What are the solutions to afraid students' concerns? TSI has taught afraid adults exclusively for 24 years. Our teaching applies to all ages. When you learn it, you're students will advance quicker. They'll move up to your next level class sooner and make room for more beginners to come in. Bring another instructor and receive a $20 discount. Bring an adult beginning student ($70) and receive another $25 discount on your training.

Watch an entire introductory class take place. Participate in the pool. Swim students' class is from 11-3:15. Instructor Training: Classroom 9:30-12:30 Pool 12:30-2:30 Classroom 2:45-5 Bring lunch.
